Mid Century Architecture Historic Landmark

Sandcliff is one of the finest and most intact examples of a mid-century condominium complex in South Palm Springs!

This home is the perfect full-time or vacation getaway property.

The 40-units of Sandcliff were developed by the Berkeley Square Company and designed by Sherwin L. Barton. Sandcliff is a superb example of “Desert Modern” architecture and the “lifestyle” condominium complexes that became so popular. Sandcliff has remained remarkably steadfast since the completion of its construction in 1964. Sandcliff is designated as an official historic landmark (Class 1), and eligible for The Mills Act Program that may have economic incentives to empower owners to reinvest tax savings into the charm and preservation and restoration of their cherished historic property.
